INDEX Author & Subject

Volume 5

Author Index

Allen, Harry C., "PR training needed by community educators," No. 4, p. 9

Barkelew, Ann H., "So you want to be president: A guide to would-be officers," No. 3, p. 31

Banach, William J., "The Macomb Intermediate School District Marketing Plan," No. 2, p. 4

Brannen, Deborah Ellaine, "Men paid higher salaries than women in educational public relations," No. 1, p. 37

Bratlien, Maynard, "Communicating the budget," No. 2, p. 34

Bulls, Grace, "Sensitizing teachers to television's impact: A plan to combat negative influences of TV," No. 4, p. 26

Cohen, Elaine Dowburd, "How to develop an arts curriculum in the community," No. 3, p. 27

Cuddy, Claudia, "What one enthusiastic teacher did with PR: A diary of successful PR activities," No. 4, p. 4

Dierksen, Carolyn N., "Students are the best source of school information for parents," No. 1, p. 36

Docherty, Robert K., "Attitudes can change after a one-hour presentation," No. 4, p. 10

Erlandson, David A., "Administrators cite need for community interaction," No. 2, p. 33

Gardner, David W., "One type of achievement report is misused," No. 3, p. 36

Golen, Steven, "Communication barriers identified by college students," No. 2, p. 33

Gorton, Dick, "Principals' actions fall short of stated attitudes toward community relations," No. 1, p. 35

Greenburg, Lenore, "PR begins at home with your own school board," No. 4, p. 17

Hatley, Richard V., "Voting behavior can be influenced by school districts," No. 2, p. 32

Hefner, Robert L., "Public relations for small school districts," No. 2, p. 34

Kosolski, Bruce W., "Sensitizing teachers to televisions' impact: A plan to combat negative influences of TV," No. 4, p. 26

Kimmelman, Paul, "How to provide PR training for your transportation staff," No. 3, p. 12

Knox, Donald, "How to develop positive parent-teacher relationships," No. 2, p. 28

Larkin, Francis P., "Communicating with senior citizens: What they don't know can hurt you," No. 3, p. 4

McClellan, Michael, "PR specialists are not a priority in overseas American schools," No. 2, p. 33

McMullen, Sylvia, "Changes needed for increased TV coverage," No. 3, p. 37

Nasstrom, Roy T., "Principals view parents as enemies," No. 1, p. 35; "Poor planning yields poor information," No. 2, p. 27

Oberg, Terry, "Students are the best source of school information for parents," No. 1, p. 36; "Changes needed for increased TV coverage," No. 3, p. 37

Reuss, Carol, "How readers digest: Tests show how to get readers involved," No. 4, p. 32

Ritter, James R., "Voting behavior can be influenced by school districts," No. 2, p. 32

Robinson, Thomas, "Reviews of new books," No. 1, p. 33; No. 2, p. 36; No. 3, p. 38; No. 4, p. 38

Rosenfeld, Anne E., "Independent and public school educators can work together for mutual advantage," No. 3, p. 8

Seifert, Edward H., "Public relations for small school districts," No. 2, p. 34

Shocket, Kathy, "Commercial TV programs gains viewers for school system," No. 4, p. 24

Shoop, Robert J., "Attitudes can change after a one-hour presentation," No. 4, p. 10

Steller, Arthur W., "How to develop positive parent-teachers relationships," No. 2, p. 28; "The case in point about who calls the shots," No. 3, p. 14

Stewart, J. Kent, "The public relations auction: A different idea to build goodwill and have fun," No. 4, p. 30

Strobel, Paul, "Principals' actions fall short of stated attitudes toward community relations," No. 1, p. 35

Sweat, Joseph P., "Internal relations have the highest priority of secondary principals," No. 3, p. 36

Taylor, Jack P., "The case in point about who calls the shots," No. 3, p. 14

Tierce, Jerry Wood, "Volunteers strengthen school community relations," No. 4, p. 8

Vaupel Jr., Carl F., "Internal relations have the highest priority of secondary principals," No. 3, p. 36

Watson, Cynthia, "How readers digest: Test show how to get readers more involved," No. 4, p. 32

West, Philip T., "The case of the ill-fated survey," No. 1, p. 6; "The case of the 12 percent tax referendum," No. 2, p. 24; "The case of 'Everybody Knows Perry'," No. 4, p. 20

Zent, Rod, "Educational TV station managers need formal administrative training," No. 4, p. 9

Subject Index

Audio-Visuals

"Commercial TV programs gain viewers for school system," Kathy Shocket, No. 4, p. 24

"Sensitizing teachers to television's impact: A plan to combat negative influences of TV," Grace Bulls & Bruce W. Kosolski, No. 4, p. 26

Case Studies

"The case of 'Everybody Knows Perry'," Philip T. West, No. 4, p. 20

"The case of the ill-fated survey," Philip T. West, No. 1, p. 6

"The case of the 12 percent tax referendum," Philip T. West, No. 2, p. 24

"The case in point about who calls the shots," Arthur W. Steller & Jack P. Taylor, No. 3, p. 14

Community Involvement

"How to develop an arts curriculum in the community," Elaine Dowburd Cohen, No. 3, p. 27

"Independent and public school educators can work together for mutual advantage," Anne E. Rosenfeld, No. 3, p. 8

"The Public Relations Auction: A different idea to build goodwill and have fun," J. Kent Steward, No. 4, p. 30

Communication Processes

"Communicating with senior citizens: What they don't know can hurt you," Francis P. Larkin, No. 3, p. 4

"How to develop positive teacher-parent relationships," Art Steller & Donald Knox, No. 2, p. 28

INDEX Author & Subject

Volume 5

Author Index

Allen, Harry C., "PR training needed by community educators," No. 4, p. 9

Barkelew, Ann H., "So you want to be president: A guide to would-be officers," No. 3, p. 31

Banach, William J., "The Macomb Intermediate School District Marketing Plan," No. 2, p. 4

Brannen, Deborah Ellaine, "Men paid higher salaries than women in educational public relations," No. 1, p. 37

Bratlien, Maynard, "Communicating the budget," No. 2, p. 34

Bulls, Grace, "Sensitizing teachers to television's impact: A plan to combat negative influences of TV," No. 4, p. 26

Cohen, Elaine Dowburd, "How to develop an arts curriculum in the community," No. 3, p. 27

Cuddy, Claudia, "What one enthusiastic teacher did with PR: A diary of successful PR activities," No. 4, p. 4

Dierksen, Carolyn N., "Students are the best source of school information for parents," No. 1, p. 36

Docherty, Robert K., "Attitudes can change after a one-hour presentation," No. 4, p. 10

Erlandson, David A., "Administrators cite need for community interaction," No. 2, p. 33

Gardner, David W., "One type of achievement report is misused," No. 3, p. 36

Golen, Steven, "Communication barriers identified by college students," No. 2, p. 33

Gorton, Dick, "Principals' actions fall short of stated attitudes toward community relations," No. 1, p. 35

Greenburg, Lenore, "PR begins at home with your own school board," No. 4, p. 17

Hatley, Richard V., "Voting behavior can be influenced by school districts," No. 2, p. 32

Hefner, Robert L., "Public relations for small school districts," No. 2, p. 34

Kosolski, Bruce W., "Sensitizing teachers to televisions' impact: A plan to combat negative influences of TV," No. 4, p. 26

Kimmelman, Paul, "How to provide PR training for your transportation staff," No. 3, p. 12

Knox, Donald, "How to develop positive parent-teacher relationships," No. 2, p. 28

Larkin, Francis P., "Communicating with senior citizens: What they don't know can hurt you," No. 3, p. 4

McClellan, Michael, "PR specialists are not a priority in overseas American schools," No. 2, p. 33

McMullen, Sylvia, "Changes needed for increased TV coverage," No. 3, p. 37

Nasstrom, Roy T., "Principals view parents as enemies," No. 1, p. 35; "Poor planning yields poor information," No. 2, p. 27

Oberg, Terry, "Students are the best source of school information for parents," No. 1, p. 36; "Changes needed for increased TV coverage," No. 3, p. 37

Reuss, Carol, "How readers digest: Tests show how to get readers involved," No. 4, p. 32

Ritter, James R., "Voting behavior can be influenced by school districts," No. 2, p. 32

Robinson, Thomas, "Reviews of new books," No. 1, p. 33; No. 2, p. 36; No. 3, p. 38; No. 4, p. 38

Rosenfeld, Anne E., "Independent and public school educators can work together for mutual advantage," No. 3, p. 8

Seifert, Edward H., "Public relations for small school districts," No. 2, p. 34

Shocket, Kathy, "Commercial TV programs gains viewers for school system," No. 4, p. 24

Shoop, Robert J., "Attitudes can change after a one-hour presentation," No. 4, p. 10

Steller, Arthur W., "How to develop positive parent-teachers relationships," No. 2, p. 28; "The case in point about who calls the shots," No. 3, p. 14

Stewart, J. Kent, "The public relations auction: A different idea to build goodwill and have fun," No. 4, p. 30

Strobel, Paul, "Principals' actions fall short of stated attitudes toward community relations," No. 1, p. 35

Sweat, Joseph P., "Internal relations have the highest priority of secondary principals," No. 3, p. 36

Taylor, Jack P., "The case in point about who calls the shots," No. 3, p. 14

Tierce, Jerry Wood, "Volunteers strengthen school community relations," No. 4, p. 8

Vaupel Jr., Carl F., "Internal relations have the highest priority of secondary principals," No. 3, p. 36

Watson, Cynthia, "How readers digest: Test show how to get readers more involved," No. 4, p. 32

West, Philip T., "The case of the ill-fated survey," No. 1, p. 6; "The case of the 12 percent tax referendum," No. 2, p. 24; "The case of 'Everybody Knows Perry'," No. 4, p. 20

Zent, Rod, "Educational TV station managers need formal administrative training," No. 4, p. 9

Subject Index

Audio-Visuals

"Commercial TV programs gain viewers for school system," Kathy Shocket, No. 4, p. 24

"Sensitizing teachers to television's impact: A plan to combat negative influences of TV," Grace Bulls & Bruce W. Kosolski, No. 4, p. 26

Case Studies

"The case of 'Everybody Knows Perry'," Philip T. West, No. 4, p. 20

"The case of the ill-fated survey," Philip T. West, No. 1, p. 6

"The case of the 12 percent tax referendum," Philip T. West, No. 2, p. 24

"The case in point about who calls the shots," Arthur W. Steller & Jack P. Taylor, No. 3, p. 14

Community Involvement

"How to develop an arts curriculum in the community," Elaine Dowburd Cohen, No. 3, p. 27

"Independent and public school educators can work together for mutual advantage," Anne E. Rosenfeld, No. 3, p. 8

"The Public Relations Auction: A different idea to build goodwill and have fun," J. Kent Steward, No. 4, p. 30

Communication Processes

"Communicating with senior citizens: What they don't know can hurt you," Francis P. Larkin, No. 3, p. 4

"How to develop positive teacher-parent relationships," Art Steller & Donald Knox, No. 2, p. 28

"How to provide PR training for your transportation staff," Paul Kimmelman, No. 3, p. 12
"PR begins at home with your own school board," Lenore Greenburg, No. 4, p. 17
"What one enthusiastic teacher did with PR: A diary of successful PR activities," Claudia Cuddy, No. 4, p. 4

Professional Growth

"So you want to be president: A guide to would-be officers," Ann H. Barkelew, No. 3, p. 31

Publications

"How readers digest: Tests show how to get readers more involved," Carol Reuss & Cynthia Watson, No. 4, p. 32

Research

"Administrators cite need for community interaction," David A. Erlandson, No. 2, p. 33
"Attitudes can change after a one-hour presentation," Robert K. Docherty & Robert J. Shoop, No. 4, p. 10
"Changes needed for increased TV coverage," Sylvia McMuller & Terry Oberg, No. 3, p. 37
"Communicating the budget," Maynard Bratlien, No. 2, p. 34
"Communication barriers identified by college students," Steven Golen, No. 2, p. 33
"Educational TV station managers need formal administrative training," Rod Zent, No. 4, p. 9
"Internal relations have the highest priority of secondary principals," Carl R. Vaupel, Jr. & Joseph P. Sweat, No. 3, p. 36
"Men paid higher salaries than women in educational public relations," Deborah Ellaine Brannen, No. 1, p. 37
"One type of achievement report is misused," David W. Gardner, No. 3, p. 36
"Principals view parents as enemies," Roy R. Nasstrom, No. 1, p. 35
"Principals' actions fall short of stated attitudes toward community relations," Dick Gorton & Paul Strobel, No. 1, p. 35
"PR specialists are not a priority in overseas American schools," Michael McClellan, No. 2, p. 32
"Public relations for small school districts," Edward H. Seifert & Robert L. Hefner, No. 2, p. 34
"Students are the best source of school information for parents," Carolyn N. Dierksen & Terry Oberg, No. 1, p. 36
"Volunteers strengthen school community relations," Jerry Wood Tierce, No. 4, p. 8
"Voting behavior can be influenced by school districts," Richard V. Hatley & James R. Ritter, No. 2, p. 32

Special Theme Issues

"Positive PR for principals: A Book of Lists," issue No. 1
"The Macomb Intermediate School District Marketing Plan: An intermediate unit takes steps to rebuild public confidence in schools," issue No. 2

Book & Publication Reviews

by Thomas E. Robinson

"Basic education: A historical perspective," by Georg L. Gutek, No. 4, p. 38
"Business-school partnerships: A plus for kids," by John Chaffee, No. 2, p. 39
"Citizen organizations: Citizen participation in educational decisionmaking," by Marilyn Gittell, et al, No. 2, p. 38
"Communication briefings," by Communication Briefings, No. 3, p. 39 (addendum)
"Communication skills in the organization," by Gary T. Hunt, No. 1, p. 33
"Creative ideas for small schools," by Gary Marx, No. 4, p. 38
"Education agenda for the 1980s," by Fred M. Hechinger, No. 4, p. 38
"Ethics and responsibilities of advising college student publications," by Lillian Lodge Kopenhaver & J. William Click, No. 2, p. 36
"Facts for a change: Citizen action research for better schools," by Bill Burges, No. 2, p. 38
"Good schools: What makes them work," by Cindy Tursman, No. 1, p. 34
"A job search handbook for educators," by John Kilby, No. 3, p. 38
"Legal aspects of teacher evaluation," by Joseph C. Beckham, No. 2, p. 37
"NOLPE school law journal," by the National Organization on Legal Problems of Educators, No. 3, p. 39 (addendum)
"Parent participation—Student achievement: The evidence grows," by Anne Henderson, No. 4, p. 39
"The public community college: The people's university," by Glenn Gabert, No. 4, p. 38
"Reduction in force: Legal issues and recommended policy," by Robert E. Phay, No. 3, p. 38
"The school board meeting: Facing new challenges from the public and the media," by Education U.S.A., No. 2, p. 37
"School communications: Ideas that work," by Don Bagin, Frank Grazian & Charles W. Harrison, No. 1, p. 33
"School law for a new decade," by M.A. McGheyey, No. 2, p. 36
"Write to the point: Writing tips for school administrators," by Joseph F. Halloran, No. 3, p. 39 ■